The Amar Mantra:

"Ohanga Sohanga Sat Charana Yugala Roopanga Tvam Namaami"

was given to us by Paramguru Shreemat Karunaasagar Mahaaraaj. The Amar Mantra is the strongest mantra in the entire world. This mantra has a significant meaning and a significant connection with our body, our brain, and our respiratory system.

What does this Mantra mean?

When we say the Amar Mantra we are doing two things:

Number 1, we are bowing our heads to Kaival Karta

Number 2, we are acknowledging how we are an 'Ansha' of Kaival Karta.

"I bow my head and pray to the creator and the controller of the universe the 'Anshi (Kaival Karta)'".

Who am I? --- When we say the Amar Mantra, we are saying, "I am an 'ANSHA' of Kaival Karta."

As an 'ANSHA' of Kaival Karta I am saying...

I, the controller of the body (the ANSHA), who is a part of Kaival Karta (the ANSHI), keep this body alive with the help of Sohanga-Pranava (breathing system). I, the eternal ANSHA, am devoid of a mind, intellect, consciousness, egoism, and senses, and as such, I BOW my head and pray to Kaival Karta (the ANSHI).

The ANSHA has DIVINE energy. This divine energy makes the 'Ohanga and Sohanga' (internal controls) act and keep the body alive, active, and allows it to work. The divine energy of the ANSHA allows the 'Sohanga-Pranava' (breathing system) to be active and allows the body to stay alive.

WHAT DOES THIS ALL MEAN?

We have two nostrils, right (Pinghala) and left (Inghala). At any given time, our body is only using one airway at one time. However, by doing a certain YOGA breathing technique (Anulom-Vilom) we can open up both of our nostrils (naadees). When both nostrils (naadees) are open, the third naadee opens up (Sukshmana Naadee) and we are in a complete tranquil state of mind ('Akash Tatva'). Our mind is completely peaceful and detached from worldly problems; our only focus is Kaival Karta. When THIS happens our internal system begins chanting the Amar Mantra automatically. The Amar Mantra is in perfect sync with our breathing system.

- As we breathe in we say, "Ohanga Sohanga Sat Charana."
- As we breathe out we say, "Yugala Roopanga Tvam Namaami."

According to Paramguru, we should do at LEAST one Amar Mantra maara a day. This mantra can help us focus and connect to Paramguru and ultimately Karta.

Kaival Gyan Mandir – Chicago

Kaival Gyan Mandir was founded by Kaival Gyan Chicago Foundation in May of 2006. Kaival Gyan Chicago Foundation is a non-profit organization inspired by Kaival Gyan Sampradaya (located in Sarsa, Gujarat) and Pujya Shree Avichaldasji Mahaaraaj (seventh and current leader) to help guide Kaival Satsangis (devotees) in Chicago, IL. Kaival Gyan Mandir is also the first abroad mandir. Kaival Gyan Sampradaya has established various Kaival mandir all over India, mainly Gujarat. However, before Kaival Gyan Mandir (Chicago), there were no Kaival mandirs outside of India. Various cities in the U.S. and England have created organizations like Kaival Gyan Chicago Foundation to help guide Kaival Satsangis. All these various organization teamed together in 2006 to establish the first Kaival Gyan Mandir outside of India.

With Paramguru Shreemat Karunaasaagar’s blessings and H.H. Acharya Shree Avichaldasji Mahaaraaj’s guidance, Kaival Gyan Mandir held its first consecration ceremony in the summer of 2007. This program, formally known as Paramguru Pran Pratishtha Mahotsav, was celebrated over a period of three days (June 29th, 30th, and July 1st, 2007). Pious saints and gurus from all over India were in attendance along with Pujya Shree Avichaldasji Mahaaraaj. In the Hindu religion, a consecration ceremony (Murti Pran Pratishtha) is a ceremony in which statues of idols are brought into the mandir. For Kaival Gyan Mandir, a murti (statue) of Paramguru, which was hand carved in India, was brought over and placed in the mandir.

Several rituals were performed as a part of the ceremony. On July 13th, 14th, & 15th, 2012, Kaival Gyan Mandir celebrated the second consecration ceremony by bringing in the murtis of six devi/devtas (Hanuman, Ram-Sita, Radha-Krishna, Shiv-Parvati, Ambaa Mata, and Ganpatiji). This three-day celebration also marked the 5th anniversary of the original Pratishtha. Overall, the event was celebrated with much grandeur. Every year, Kaival Gyan Mandir celebrates various events, Hindu Holidays, and hosts cultural programs for events like Mahibij, Gurupurnima, Patotsav, and Diwali. There are also annual blood drives and walk a thons held at mandir to help support our community. One of the most prominent aspects of the mandir is its youth sector. They contribute to the development of the mandir through learning, teaching, performing cultural programs, and helping with decorations for events. It is a community based on teamwork and trust.
